Catch Just One Fish And You Have Bait

By ROBERT E. VOGES
For James A. O. Crowe
LANSING — You learn something every time you go fishing. And sometimes a scrap of fishing lore comes in handy years later.

Three years ago, for instance, while fishing the pond of Cape Cod, Massachusetts, I learned that the eyes, insides and fins of a perch are regarded as a very tasty snack by their brother perch and numerous other species.

Bertrand De Geoffroy, a photographer-fisherman who studied the art in his native France and Switzerland, was a strong advocate of the "make do" school of bait fishing.

"Nearly all fish are attracted by a 'peach eye,'" he explained. "Maybe they wonder what the eye is doing looking at them down there. Most any part of the insides are good too if you can get them to stay on the hook. And when you're casting, the under fin of the perch is very good for pickerel. The red seems to attract them."

His argument was that when bait fishing, once you caught one fish you should be able to stay in business by cannibalizing the fish the same way you take apart one car to build another model.

Back in Michigan, I found it handy advice, especially when fishing with a small four-year-old boy who is likely to run out of worms.

Concerning small four-year-olds, I also discovered that a drop line tied around his waist and a red ball bobber was much more practical than a rod when fishing in a boat—unless you want to keep ducking.

Television Reception In Escanaba Improves

Television reception in Escanaba took a sharp turn for the better Saturday when the Milwaukee Journal station, WTMJ-TV, shifted to Channel 4 with greatly increased power. The station also put into use for the first time its new 1,050-foot antenna.

Prior to the change WTMJ-TV was on Channel 3 and transmitted with a power of 16,000 watts from a tower 275 feet in height. The station's new power is 100,000 watts.

The signal of WTMJ-TV previously was frequently interrupted in the Escanaba area because of an overlap with a Kalamazoo TV station which also was on Channel 3.

Signal Sharpened
Local television viewers who watched the changeover of WTMJ-TV from Channel 3 to Channel 4 Saturday night said that immediately prior to the switch, the signal being received here was not clear but that as soon as the changeover was made at approximately 8:20 p. m., the station's program came in sharp and clear, both sound and picture.

Jack Foster, local radio engineer, reported that the changeover of WTMJ should also increase the periodic and irregular reception of Kalamazoo TV signals in Escanaba on Channel 3. A Chicago station on Channel 5 also is received here irregularly.

Green Bay on Channel 2 now is received regularly in Escanaba and this signal will be sharpened considerably this fall when the Green Bay station increases its power from 6,000 watts to 100,000 watts. The station also is building a new transmitter tower of 750 feet, which located on a hill, will provide about the same height as the WTMJ-TV tower in Milwaukee. The switch to increased power is scheduled for Sept. 1.

100 Receivers Here
The Green Bay station also will join a television network on October 2 when the microwave relay equipment from Milwaukee to Green Bay is installed.

There are approximately 100 television receivers in the Escanaba area now. A sharp increase in the number of sets locally is anticipated because of the developments in Milwaukee and Green Bay that assure improved reception here, although Escanaba is beyond the generally-accepted coverage zone of both stations.

The switchover of WTMJ-TV to Channel 4, however, does pose one problem for many local television viewers. Approximately half of the local antennas are designed specifically for Channel 3 reception. They will still bring in the WTMJ-TV signal from Channel 4 but with less efficiency than broad-beam antennas, local experts said.

HOUGHTON — The people of Copper Country responded generously to an appeal on behalf of the people of tornado struck Flint, and during the last week of June the Michigan Van Line transported 50 cartons of clothing to Flint.

Members of the local volunteer fire department were called out to fight the blaze, which started from grease burning in a pan on the electric stove. Cabinets were burned inside and out, and the ceiling was also burned, firemen stated.

NEWBERRY — About 200 were present at the sixty-fifth celebration at the Bethlehem Evangelical Lutheran church over the weekend. Saturday evening the sermon was given by the Rev. O. A. MARINETTE, WIS. — A third case of polio was reported Wednesday in Marinette county.

Dale Watson, age five, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson, of Porterfield, was diagnosed as a polio patient, at Marinette General hospital. However, since he is past the critical stage and afflicted by a mild form of the disease, he was returned home, where his condition was reported good.

Patrick Boivin, two, of Marinette, was reported in favorable condition and Patrick Richardson, 14, who was reported in critical condition and in an iron lung at the hospital, was improved today.

Above Newsmag shows what steps the Yugoslavs want taken to help solve the seven-year-old stalemate. However, an Italian foreign ministry spokesman said that his country still insists on Trieste's return, which was suggested by the Big 3 in 1948. There appears to be growing support for an independent Free Territory of Zones A and B, under a governor appointed by the UN. This is a feeling harbored by many Triestines who are as opposed to Italian bureaucracy as they are to Tito's communism.

City Firemen Called Twice On Weekend
A dozen or more patrons of the Silver Front tavern were surprised early Saturday evening when an Escanaba fire crew tromped in, in response to a fire call put in when neon wiring back of the bar was shorted.

The proprietor of the tavern, Elmer Howard, 310 Stephenson Avenue, refrained from telling patrons to avoid panic, firemen state. There was no damage.

Firemen also were called on the weekend to the Pear Pearson shop, 1109 N. 18th St., when sparks from an electric motor ignited sawdust on the floor. The blaze had a good start when firemen were called at 5:45 a. m., the fire department reports. Damage to the building is estimated at $25 and to contents of the building at $300.

City firemen to date have responded to a total of 11 calls this month.

Oregon Prison Revolt Goes On

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Prison officials and some 900 convicts remained in virtual deadlock as a revolt of prisoners went into its fourth day at the Oregon Penitentiary today.

The men, confined to a fenced-in baseball field inside the prison walls, seemed about to surrender once Sunday night, but turned restless and abusive after Warden Clarence T. Gladden issued soup and bread—their first meal since Friday night.

"Now we've got the warden on the run," came the cries after the soup had been distributed and guards had begun conducting men from the chill outdoors area to the cells.

Gladden at once stopped the removal of the men from the field. About 125 had been searched and conducted to the cells before the halt.

The warden said there would be no meals at all for the 900 outside and the 400 men now in their cells. Nearly 300 in the cells have been there since Friday, when they answered Gladden's call to give up the revolt then. Gladden said all would remain locked up.

Gladden said the remainder would stay in the baseball field—where armed guards are watching them from the walls—until the convicts give assurance there will be no further revolt.

The men broke up bleachers on the field to construct windbreaks as a chill breeze swept the field Sunday night. They also built bonfires with the wood.

Guards noted that the men apparently had found a cache of tools under the bleachers, too, for many had axes and picks this morning.

Despite the new defiance of the men, the warden left the water supply turned on for a faucet on the baseball field. It had been kept shut off for two days and a night. That was after the men had caused $100,000 damage in Saturday rioting.

Frank Schiska Dies In Oregon

Oklahoma Rancher Beats Drought, Sells Beef To Consumers

SNYDER, Okla. (AP)—With his back to the wall because of the prolonged drought, a desperate rancher did a desperate thing—and it worked.

What would you do if this happened to you?

You're a rancher in Oklahoma's powder-dry Kiowa County. A few months ago you bought a calf for $33, turned it out to pasture, and watched it gain 150 pounds. Then you brought it to the market, and when the auctioneer's gavel fell, it had sold for only $21.50.

Despite the feed and care, you had lost $11.50.

It happened to Clay Weaver, 42, and just about turned his tough, tanned flesh white.

"Boy, I knew I had to do something, and quick," he explained. "I didn't have a big herd of cattle or a big bank account. I was one of the small boys who made his living in a small way."

What Weaver didn't mention was that, aside from other responsibilities, he had an ailing wife and three small children to support. His finances were at a low ebb because his wife, sick with a mysterious and troublesome disease, required the attention of specialists.

"My sister and I hit upon the idea of selling our cattle directly

Miss Frasher urged children to attend during the week in order to be represented at the show Friday.

State Retirement Board Will Meet Here Thursday

A quarterly meeting of the state board for the Municipal Employees Retirement system will be held in Escanaba Thursday, July 16, Loren Jenkins, a member of the board, said today.

Donald J. O'Hara, executive secretary of the state board, will conduct the meeting here. All U. P. cities participating in the retirement system have been invited to send representatives.

Also expected here for the meeting, in the city council chambers, is State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, an ex officio member of the board.

Details of a new law passed in the last session of the state legislature will be outlined at the meeting and questions on municipal employees' retirement will be answered.

The new state law provides additional benefits and under it the maximum pension employees can receive has been increased from $75 a month to $125, Jenkins said this morning. These sums are exclusive of a five per cent deduction from employee payrolls which provides annuities for municipal employees.

Employees of the City of Escanaba and of numerous other U. P. cities participate in this system, operated by the state government. These employees are not covered by social security.

The meeting here Thursday begins at 2 p. m., and marks the first time the state board has met in Upper Michigan.

Five of its members are from Lower Michigan and one, Jenkins, is from Upper Michigan. Members of the organization nominate two men for each post on the board and appointment of one of the two is made by the governor. Jenkins has held membership on the board for five years.

Yacht Club Movie Draws Full Crowd

A record attendance of approximately 100 people filled the Escanaba Yacht Club House Saturday evening to see the 3-D color slides of the Brigantine Yankee's round the world cruise.

Local members and their friends plus guests from the Gladstone Yacht Club saw the slides shown by Mrs. Ed Lindner, of Milwaukee, who was a member of the boat's crew on its most recent 18 month cruise. The colorful scenes, taken afloat and ashore, were made more interesting by the 3-D and by Mr. Lindner's talk which accompanied the showing. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by the H. J. Gasman.

The program preceding the program was won by David Johnson sailing the L. H. Wood's "4 Splinters". Wednesday, July 15, the second Sea Gull elimination race will be held, starting at 6:30 p. m. Members are invited to bring their picnic suppers down to the club house that evening.

LOW COTTON CROP MAY AVOID CONTROLS—Drought and bad weather that reduce this year's cotton crop, estimated at two million bales less than last year's, may enable cotton raisers to squeeze by without federal controls on the 1954 crop. Last year, 26,922,000 acres produced a 15,135,000-bale crop. This February, Secretary of Agriculture Benson warned that unless farmers produce only a 12-to-12.5-million bale crop this year federal controls would be slapped on the 1954 crop. Department of Agriculture's first acreage estimate is 34,615,000 acres under cultivation on July 1—nine per cent less than last year. That should produce about 13,047,540-bale crop. Normal losses and others due to bad weather may reduce the yield near enough to Secretary Benson's goal to avoid threatened controls. Newsman above shows Agriculture's estimate of acreage in cultivation on July 1 compared with 1952's acreage.

Eisenhower's Offer Of Food For East Germany Is Master Stroke

PRESIDENT Eisenhower's offer of food for hungry East Germany is a humanitarian act in the best traditions of this country. But it is also more than that. It is a bombshell to the Kremlin.

Russia loses the psychological war on this issue no matter what decision the Kremlin reaches regarding the American offer. If Russia declines the offer and permits East Germans to remain hungry, the Communists will only build greater hatred for themselves from the German people. If Russia accepts that offer—the likely choice—it is an admission of failure of the Communist ability to maintain an even economic keel.

Actually, of course, East Germany would not be hungry except for the glut of Soviet Russia. The Russians have stripped East Germany of a large portion of its food supplies.

The United States has an abundance of food and can well afford to offer a portion of it to East Germany. It will be interesting to see the reaction to this development in East Germany and particularly in Russia.

It is significant that the request for American aid to East Germany came from the government of Chancellor Adenauer of Western Germany. The Adenauer government has been doing what it can to provide assistance to the Germans under Communist rule but its help is necessarily limited.

The American offer should be a factor in increasing the strength of democracy in Germany, both in the western sector and in the area dominated by a Communist government.

James Michener's Book Brings Korean War Home

IT'S just possible, in this fourth year of the Korean war, that we on the home front are suffering in some degree from a guilt feeling about that neglected conflict.

With the exception of families of fighting men, our sacrifices are small, and we know it. Worse yet, we often lack a sense of personal appreciation for the fighting men who are carrying our load. We're ashamed of ourselves for it, but there it rests.

James Michener hasn't let it rest there. The author of "Tales of the South Pacific" has gone out and written himself a book about the Korean war which brings the battle home to the reader like spotting a friend's name on a casualty list.

It's a short novel called "The Bridges of Toko-Ri" and like Hemingway's recent "The Old Man and the Sea" it appeared first in Life magazine before coming out in book form.

The principal action takes place on a U. S. aircraft carrier, in the icy sea off Korea, and in the flak-filled skies over the battle area.

The chief character is a jet pilot, married and the father of two children, who served in World War II and was plucked from his civilian law practice in Denver to fight again in Korea. He is resentful, scared and homesick and through him emerges the book's theme—why must so few bear the fighting load and why the home-front apathy towards the war?

Some of the moralizing on this subject—most of it in the form of dialogue between the flyer and his commanding officer—is a little heavy. By comparison, the vivid battle action is chain lightning.

Right up through the climax—the bombing of the enemy-held bridges of Toko-Ri—there is one action peak after another. And it all rings with the reality of stenotype report.

Some of the most interesting reading is in the action passages about jets taking off and landing on the icy wind-pitched deck of the carrier. In landing, the nine-ton Banshees are brought to a violently sudden halt when a hook on the plane catches in one of a series of cables stretched low over the deck.

An air force officer visiting the carrier marveled at the procedure as simply a "controlled crash."

The sharpest-drawn character is a 250-pound lieutenant nicknamed Beer Barrel, a sloppy officer by many standards but a guiding angel when it comes to signaling the pilots in to landings on the heaving deck.

This is a book we won't soon forget about a war we forget too easily. For Michener it just about clinches the literary title of Mr. Pacific.

The title on an advertisement read "Big Shoe Sale." And they expect women to buy?

By Dr. C. E. Funk

drive slow—J. O. C., Redlands, Calif.—Your question, whether traffic signs should read "Drive slow" or "Drive slowly," comes up a dozen times a year. The fact is that slow is not only an adjective but also an adverb, and has been so used, side by side with slowly, since the days of Shakespeare. Strangely enough, the warning, "Go slow," rarely excites comment, perhaps because it is heard so frequently. "Drive slow" and "drive slowly" are equally grammatically correct.

The car sits in the parking lot. You set it there—that is, place it—when you park it, but there after it sits—remains inactive—until you drive it away.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—You can't get anyone to talk about it for quotation, but Democratic senators are seriously considering a battle against Ike's most important proposed judicial appointment—ex-Senator John Danaher to the U. S. Court of Appeals, second circuit.

Located in New York City, this is one of the most important appeals courts in the nation, made famous by Judge Learned Hand and other noted jurists. Judge Thomas W. Swan is now retiring from that bench and Leonard Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has sold the White House in appointing genial John Danaher of Connecticut, one of the most skillful lobbyists in Washington.

Good old John is popular with ex-colleagues, but his chief distinctions of late include being an excellent GOP money-raiser, and president of Capitol Hill Associates, the so-called GOP "drinking club" across from the Capitol, and director of special activities for Eisenhower last November.

As a lobbyist, genial John has some gilded clients, including the semi-socialist Bolivian government, for which he has just put across important U. S. aid, plus a contract to buy tin. He also represents Firestone and Goodrich in the rubber field, and some senators are wondering what part, if any, Danaher has played in persuading the like administration to sell the government's valuable synthetic rubber factories to the rubber industry.

Danaher also represents Fuller Brush, and in 1947, shortly after the lobbying act was passed, was listed as the highest paid lobbyist on Capitol Hill with a fee of $25,000 from Revere Copper and Brass. He got this for getting the import tax on copper suspended.

During his career as a senator, Danaher had been a high tariff man. But as a lobbyist, he opposed the import tax on copper for his clients. In the year 1946 he was also listed as receiving $20,000 a year from the Republican National Committee as its contact man with congress.

Danaher liked some of his colleagues by one brassy piece of lobbying in 1945 when he actually went on the floor of congress, a privilege which he has an ex-senator but is not supposed to abuse as a lobbyist, in order to lobby against the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. Though not a member of the senate, he actually held whispered consultations with other senators on the senate floor in an effort to defeat a bill which Eisenhower now champions.

Eisenhower won a notable victory in the excess profits tax fight, but inside Republican ranks relations were strained to the breaking point. The backstage debate gave an inkling of the bitterness.

Just before the 16-9 vote to sustain Ike, Uncle Dan Reed suddenly announced that the secret meeting was "adjourned," banged his gavel furiously, and started to walk out of the room.

"Just a minute, Dan, you can't do that," shouted Congressman Richard Simpson of Pennsylvania. "It's against parliamentary procedure. A majority of the committee wants to vote on this and under the rules we have a right to vote."

GOP Congressman Tom Jenkins of Ohio quickly offered a motion to bring the tax bill to a vote as Reed, his face flushed with anger, turned at the door and reluctantly came back.

"In all the years I have been in congress I have never seen anything like this," declared the 78-year-old New Yorker. "There never has been anything to equal the pressures that have been brought on this committee to force out a tax bill the majority of us still do not want. We might as well make a complete surrender—for that is what we are doing here—and let the Treasury Department write all tax legislation in the future."

Reed's blowup was followed by another angry hassle involving Tom Curtis of Missouri, who supported Reed, and two other Republicans who opposed him—Martin of Iowa and Hal Holmes of Washington.

Several weeks ago Iowa's Martin told committee colleagues that the excess profits tax was "unfair and unjust" and that nothing would change his plans to vote against it. However, Martin did change his mind and colleagues say the change took place when Martin recently went to Iowa to announce that he would run for the senate next year.

Accompanying Martin on the trip was none other than house majority leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, who labored night and day to bring the tax measure out of Reed's committee. Colleagues hinted that Halleck "put the squeeze" on Martin to vote for the bill in return for administration blessing for the senate.

Missouri's Curtis probably had this in mind when he jumped up at the closed-door meeting to decry the tactics of Ike leaders.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—The Delta County Tax Allocation board passed a resolution requiring that all welfare bills be passed on by the claims and accounts committee the same as any other unit of county government before being paid.

Manistique—State police were investigating the dynamiting of the Manistique Pulp and Paper company dam on the Indian river.

20 YEARS AGO

The construction of 5.2 miles of concrete paving between Rapid River and Kipling on Highway U. S. 2 has been approved by the new Democratic State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner. Several other paving projects in the state were removed from a list previously approved by Grover C. Dillman, former state highway commissioner.

Manistique—Dr. A. R. Tucker and Roy Roberts were elected members of the Manistique board of education, in one of the most hotly contested elections in years. The vote was unusually large.

Why Arabs Hate Us:

Suspicious Of West Defenses, They Have No Fear Of Reds

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

CAIRO (NEA) — It took the Russians to make the United States discover the Arabs.

As far as the average American goes, the Arabs were colorful characters wearing headscarves like knotted towels and dashing on camels firing barber-pole striped rifles.

After building frantically against Russian in Europe and the Orient, our government saw a side door open—the Middle East.

That's why Secretary of State John Foster Dulles visited Arab countries offering membership in the American financed Anti-Communist Club. That's one club you get paid for joining.

The answer was flying tomatoes and speeches knocking Harry Truman for being pro-Israel. Knocking Harry Truman to a Republican is champagne for breakfast, but Dulles kept a straight face.

The Arabs suspect there are strings attached to loose wallets, like on April Fool's Day, and Dulles now agrees that any kind of "Middle East Defense" must be delayed.

This is unfortunate, for Arabs make good infantrymen if properly guided. They have amazing physical stamina. Their songs are not of love and moon but of blood and battle.

It has been touring North Africa, Egypt and the Levant for more than a month speaking to the Sheikhs, fellahs and bubble pipe salesmen.

They are concerned with crushing Israel, muscling the British out of the Suez Canal Zone and the French from Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco. They seem to have no fear of attack by Russia.

The Arabs hate us and our European allies more than they hate Russians. They don't know many Russians.

Well, nobody loves the telephone company but everybody does business with it. The West must explain how the Russian anti-Christ would be just an anti-Mohammed.

Why is this important to you? Remember when Marshal Rommel was breezing toward Cairo and the Japs were chopping through Burmese jungles en route to India? It looked like a hook-up. If it had happened we might now be defending Nebraska with table knives.

Today Red China faces India and alongside Russia is Iran. Malenkov and Mao might plan reunion in the Middle East, which would place four thumbs on our Adam's apple.

Assuming Ivan would detour tough Turkey and bash over feeble Iran, he could stroll through every Arab country down North Africa to Tangier without meeting a native force strong enough to make him don his tin hat.

Of course, from the first our fly-boys would be clapping Ivan from British and American airfields in Iraq, Bahrain, Caudi Arabia, Jordan, Cyprus, Morocco, Suez and Libya. But needless to say, Russian pilots would not be practicing loops at the time. And our desert strips are as exposed as the open sands.

Ivan's only ground obstacle would be the British Suez depot where 80,000 Tommies, trained to ballet precision, serve three boring years without a date.

UNDER THE NORTHERN SHADOW: Focused on the Arab World, this newsmag shows how it embraces oil-rich land and the vital Suez. Shaded area at top includes Western ally, Turkey, but is dominated by Russia's Communist World.

Minus Suez, which fed Montgomery's 8th Army, Rommel would have ferried the canal, turned left through the Holy Land and Turkey to join the main Wehrmacht in Greece, making Hitler the biggest man in the Mediterranean since Alexander the Great.

If Malenkov stops trying to kiss and make up and tosses his weight around, Suez could again play a life saving role.

The British Suez base is history's biggest machine shop and storehouse. Another 80,000 troops could fly to Suez in their underwear and overnight be dressed and armed.

London has a lease through 1956. But Cairo says it was inked under duress. Egypt wants Tommy to scam pronto.

England, who knows that sitting on other people's property without popular consent is currently frowned on, contract or no, offers to go if she can leave 5000 technical housekeepers and return in strength if Ivan marches.

Egypt wants her own technicians. Meanwhile, pace-maker Dulles runs to both sides pleading: "Gentlemen, gentlemen..." The U. S. worries: "What if some of our North African landlords decide to burn the leases?"

So They Say

People say this is a tremendous trip to make, but to me it was entirely uneventful and just another flight.—Peter Gluckman of San Francisco, Calif., alights from his tiny plane in Renfrew, Scotland, after transatlantic flight from the United States.

I hope I get it (a recording job) on my own. I know a lot about records.—Joan Benny, daughter of comedian Jack Benny.

In the Soviet Zone, we now have a policy of butter instead of caution.—Otto Nuschke, deputy premier, East (Red) Berlin.

Don't be afraid to go into the library and read about communism.—President Eisenhower tells graduating class at Dartmouth College.

I think we could leave it (Taft-Hartley labor law) alone and not have anybody kicking very much.—Sen. Robert Taft, co-author of the law.

We had a very friendly visit, I'm not discussing it at all.—Rep. Daniel Reed on leaving the White House where he presumably talked with President Eisenhower on extension of the "excess profits tax."

Is there any other living man who has been on the slopes of Everest seven times out of 11 expeditions?—Tensing, a Sherpa guide who scaled Mt. Everest, re-resents remark attributed to Colonel Hunt, expedition leader, that Tensing is "a good climber within the limits of his experience."

He's too busy to see every Tom, Dick and Harry that comes to town.—Harry Truman says he won't see President Eisenhower while visiting Washington.

The Boss (Mrs. Truman) wants a glass of water, and I'd like a coke.—Private citizen Harry Truman tells Maryland gas station operator.

Good Evening...

(Peter Edson, NEA columnist, will substitute for Clint Dunathan who is on vacation.)

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If ever a meeting of Big Three foreign ministers was held in a vacuum, the July 10 Washington Conference of American, British and French diplomats is it. The vacuum consists of a complete lack of clarity on what the American foreign policy is, though the United States is now supposed to set the pace in the world rat race.

In his inaugural address, President Eisenhower declared that his administration would develop a clear, consistent and confident global foreign policy through genuine, continuous cooperation with Congress in the spirit of true bipartisanship.

The only trouble with this is that Congress hasn't cooperated.

The President called for these specific foreign policy moves in his inaugural address: Withdrawal of U. S. Seventh Fleet from the Straits of Formosa, Increased assistance to Korea, American foreign aid to be matched by greater effort abroad for European unity. Declaration against secret agreements (Yalta and Potsdam) that permitted the enslavement of foreign people. Extension of reciprocal trade agreements and simplification of customs procedure.

LIST OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS
Check off the list and see where it leaves you:

The President had the power to order the Seventh Fleet withdrawn and did it. The psychological purpose of this was to free the Chinese Nationalist forces to move on the Chinese mainland, but when the viet-minh retook in indo-China marched through Laos recently, no one made a move to have Chiang Kai-shek's forces create a diversionary attack against Red China.

Increased assistance to Korea is threatened by Republic of Korea's unwillingness to agree to trade terms without U. S. guarantees when the administration is unwilling to give.

Congress wants all foreign aid terminated as soon as possible. The British and French aren't going to take this at all.

When Congress tried to write into the Mutual Security law a mandatory cut in foreign aid unless the Europeans agreed to more unity, the White House had to back-track and ask that this be left to presidential discretion.

The proposed declaration against enslavement of people by secret agreement died a-borning in Congress.

The trade agreements act has been extended for a year, but it settles nothing. The whole argument has merely been postponed.

The House Ways and Means Committee has approved a revised customs simplification plan. But in the rush to adjourn, it would be no surprise if action on this proposal were also delayed a year.

In fact, out of some 15 major foreign policy proposals which President Eisenhower has made to Congress since inauguration, only two have thus far been approved. They are the one-year extension of trade-agreements legislation and the grant of a million tons of wheat to Pakistan.

OTHER PROPOSALS
Among other foreign policy proposals which the Congress has thus far refused to consider or failed to complete are:

Repeat the "Buy America" act. Establish a commission to re-examine foreign policy. Encourage the flow of private investment abroad. Receive from the rest of the world more raw materials in exchange for what the U. S. supplies them. Revise the immigration law. Admit 240,000 refugees during the next two years. Authorize the President to give away as foreign relief any U. S. farm surpluses.

Ambassador Dulles has been to Europe, the Middle East and India, but his tours have produced no apparent new policies, settled no old feuds. While liberation of captive people in the satellite countries was a great topic for Dulles campaign speeches, when the revolt came in East Germany, the only help it got from America was cheers.

President Eisenhower, in his foreign policy speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, did spell out plainly what he expected from Russia as proof of its peaceful intentions:

Have its Red Chinese and North Korean pals sign an honorable armistice and provide for free elections for a united Korea. End Communist attacks on Indo-China. Sign a peace treaty on Austria. Approve a free and united Germany. Provide for full independence of the east European nations.

Built-In Storage Units Help Solve Problems Of Space

By MR. FIX

A most common complaint of home owners in these days of basementless and atticless houses is the lack of adequate storage areas. But this fault is, more often than not, one of poor design, rather than of too-little actual space for storage.

In other words, it isn't so much the size of the storage place that counts, it's the way stored articles are arranged in the space. If the enclosure is of awkward dimensions, then the articles can't be stored practically or conveniently.

This is not to say that size (or volume) of storage space is unimportant. On the contrary, it is vital. But size alone isn't the measure of efficient storage.

Most homes have coat and linen closets, clothes closets for each bedroom and cabinets for kitchen and bathroom supplies. But some of this space is often wasted because it cannot be used to best advantage.

These are the homes in which the vacuum cleaner and other cleaning supplies have to be stored at the back of coat closets, where the housewife must burrow for them. There's likely to be a card table there, too, and a tennis racket propped in a corner. Other odds and ends are stored in chests.

Something can be done about the whole unhappy situation, even in existing homes, by installing built-in storage units. Built-in units save space by reducing the number of pieces of storage-type furniture to a minimum, the University of Illinois Small Homes Council points out. Occupying the same or less floor space than chests, dressers and wardrobes, built-in units may extend to the ceiling, offering that much more storage area.

The University of Illinois found that such units offer maximum accessibility of all items stored, efficient use of space for storage, economy in construction and flexibility. It puts particular stress on flexibility.

The principle of the built-in unit is that articles are "easy to see, easy to reach and easy to grasp." It is recommended that none of the units be more than 24 inches deep. In fact, three depths—12, 16 and 24 inches—are most practical and economical.

The 12-inch depth is for dinnerware, books, toys; the 16-inch depth for cleaning equipment, radio - record player, desk supplies, etc.; the 24-inch depth for clothing, linens, card tables, etc.

The width of the built-in may be determined by the width of the largest article to be stored in it, or by the number of articles it will have to hold. Height is variable. Units may be adapted to window or door levels, may be free-standing or of ceiling height. None should be higher than 72 inches.

To provide flexibility, adjustable shelves are recommended for built-in units. The shelves should not be evenly spaced, but adjusted as far apart as the tallest article placed on each shelf, or slightly farther.

Full-front opening is most efficient. Sliding, folding or hinged doors may be used.

Drawers should be as shallow as possible for the type of article to be stored.

The simplest storage units are little more than boxes and are flexible in that they may be combined in many ways. In combination they may form partitions between rooms.

There is a variety of plans and specifications available today for building storage units. Your lumber dealer can help you. He may even have such units pre-cut and ready for assembly.

Boyle's Pet Peeve Is Stubborn Typewriter

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—The ordinary newspaperman rarely looks for, expects, or needs public sympathy.

But at this moment I need a shoulder to cry on—and, if you've got two, I'll weep on both of them.

I'll tell you what breaks more newspapermen's hearts than people who won't talk—and that is typewriters that won't work.

He Liked One

In war or peace it is typewriters. I hate typewriters. I don't suppose anybody in the whole world hates typewriters more than I do—or for more reasons.

"The first and only fair typewriter I ever met was one I used in 1934 in the Columbia Mo. Tribune, put there by The Associated Press. The ribbon had never been changed since the early part of the century, but it never broke.

To write a story on it you had to get up early when you felt strong, and kick at the keys with both feet. It had an advantage for the management in that at the end of the day none of the series of reporters who inherited it ever had the muscle-power to use it to ask for a raise.

Rented As Tractor

"I have heard since that Jake Hamel, the managing editor, leased it during the last war, powered it with an airplane motor and rented it as a tractor. But I'll bet it is now back at work again, chronicling the exploits of the University of Missouri athletic teams—with the same old ribbon.

There never was a typewriter like that old covered wagon. You couldn't break it with a sledgehammer.

But never since then have I had a typewriter that you could even start to fill out an expense account upon but what it would collapse.

Fear Infestation Of Cinch Bugs

EAST LANSING (P)—Farmers in Michigan's southern tier of counties were alerted by Michigan State College today against a possible infestation of cinch bugs.

Experts said the bugs are threatening northwestern Ohio corn fields and that farmers in Hillsdale, Lenawee, and Monroe counties should be ready for the pests.

The young bugs, red in color, grow rapidly and can crawl from wheat to corn fields easily. Farmers should consult their county agricultural agents about control methods.

Good Health Rules Still Apply To Prevent Polio

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Scientists have made progress toward polio control and a time may come when epidemics of this disease will be averted, but no great reduction in cases can be promised this year.

Use of gamma globulin (which prevents paralytic polio for a few weeks) is strictly curtailed because of shortness of supply. Only about 1,000,000 doses of GG will be available this year for distribution among some 46,000,000 children and adolescents in the age groups most susceptible to polio.

With this in mind, I asked Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, what parents can do to safeguard their children now against this dread disease.

List Health Rules

"With a vaccine still unavailable," he replied, "and with GG in short supply, parents should heed the precautions which have been recommended year after year when polio is around. The advice contained in these simple health rules holds good.

"1. Children may continue to play with their usual companions—avoiding new groups.

"2. They should wash hands carefully before eating, avoiding use of other people's soiled towels, dishes and tableware.

"3. Beware of fatigue and chilling of children, which lowers resistance to polio virus.

"4. Don't subject young children to unnecessary and lengthy travel.

"5. Consult your doctor if symptoms of polio appear: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back—keep the patient in bed away from others.

"6. If polio strikes, turn to your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for advice and financial assistance, if needed."

Avoid Panic

Dr. Van Riper points out that the greatest source of danger to children from birth to adolescence, the group in which polio is most likely to strike, is his own home group where he is most likely to use common things. The next most likely places are school, the movies or other crowded areas. The least dangerous spot for infection is the outdoors.

The main thing for parents to remember, says Dr. Van Riper, is not to become panicky. By staying put, even though some cases of polio crop up in the neighborhood, you reduce the chances of your child contracting the disease. In any event, the possibilities of junior contracting paralytic polio is one in 150. In many instances, Junior may get a mild case of the disease and gain immunity through it.

One final word from Dr. Van Riper: Don't take your child's tonsils out during the polio season. Wait until October or November if it must be done.

Speed Housekeeping In A Summer Cottage

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Perk up that rented cottage if you'd like it to seem like home. Sometimes the family's vacation is spoiled by the dreariness of that temporary abode. There is nothing so depressing as drab decor at a vacation resort.

The idea of a summer cottage spells enchantment whether it is at mountain, seashore or lake. It conjures up a picture of repose and serenity. The idea is to have fun, and to keep housework at a minimum so Mom can enjoy the holiday, too. But comfort shouldn't be sacrificed in achieving that aim.

A few little "fixings" may lend the cheer and hominess to which you are accustomed. Strategic spots such as windows, upholstery, floors and table-tops should be concentrated on for sparkle that will compel the eye from other deficiencies.

Here are some suggestions for perking up that rented cottage:

1. Five or ten geranium plants can go to the window in a burst of color that will improve your outlook immediately. Petunias, ageratum or marigolds or combinations of those plants are delightful for window boxes. These can be taken home later.

2. Dingy or worn draperies should be rolled up and put away. Don't use them just because they happen to be there. Fresh ones require only a minor outlay in cash if you stick to gaily colored patterns in plastic or paper. You have an investment in the house so a few more dollars shouldn't hurt. These draperies may be kept clean easily by occasional sponging with soapuds.

3. Tea-towels may be gathered and put up in temporary fashion at kitchen windows to give the entire room a crisp look. Or bring your kitchen curtains from home. It will be worth the trouble of carting them.

4. Upholstered pieces may be given a new lease on life. Somehow those found in rented cottages are always pretty grim—fabric is ancient, dull and worn. But inexpensive plastic slipcovers or some bright bath towels will turn them into gay lounges for summer. Tuck the towels around the cushions, into crevices, pin them down over the back, and up under the bottom edges. These make all the difference to your drab room, and particularly at seashore or lake, terry toweling will be right in the swim.

When these towels get soiled simply throw them in with the laundry. Turkish toweling adds to summer sitting comfort because it absorbs perspiration and keeps the chair dry when wet bathing suits come in contact with it.

5. If floor covering is murky and worn, roll it up. Replace it with bright wallpaper which is applied to floor with wallpaper paste. Decals are good, too, and may be spotted around to cover flaws in the floor. After shellac is applied and dried it will be easy to keep floors clean with soap and water.

6. If walls need brightening, gaily colored wallpaper behind open shelves, as a lining for open cupboards or the inside of cupboard doors are inexpensive brighteners.

7. Straight chairs may be enlivened by whisking plastic-covered tie-cushions onto their seats, and perhaps plastic slipcovers over their backs. If table tops are worn and scarred, cover them with gaily patterned plastic cloths or textured plastic mats or lace tablecloth. Under a coffee table glass you can put leaves, artificial flowers, velvet or colored paper to hide the scars.

8. You can keep your rented cottage shining with a minimum of effort if you will use soap and water whenever possible. Take your carpet sweeper with you and it will be a cinch to clean up dust in a jiffy.

BOWS START DISPUTE

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A controversy has developed on Formosa as to whether it is idolatry for a Christian to bow before a portrait of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, founder of the Republic of China. The controversy, which has been going on behind the scenes, has sprung into the open with letters to the editors. Many Christian students hold that it is idolatry to bow before the statues or pictures of Dr. Sun. The Ministry of Education however, disagrees, and students in public schools, as well as all Chinese citizens at public meetings and ceremonies, are required to bow before Dr. Sun, to show their loyalty to the nation.

Cheesecake Helps Get Close Shave

(P) Newsfeatures

NEW YORK (P)—Men, don't be half-shaved. Use psychology.

Shaving has to be approached in a positive frame of mind. If that doesn't help, try Marilyn Monroe—a picture, that is—pasted on the edge of your shaving mirror where you can keep an eye on her.

She'll do wonders for you, if you don't cut your throat!

Sports photos and scenic panoramas will do as much—almost.

So says Murray Kushell, researcher for a major razor blade manufacturer (Pall). The idea is to keep from being bored. Boredom, says Kushell, is a major stumbling block to good shaving.

Attitude Counts

"It's all a matter of attitude," says Kushell. "After all, a good shave makes you look better. It ought to make you feel better."

Kushell figures a man shaves something like 25,000 times in a lifetime—in the wrong frame of mind all the way. Out of 42 million men who shave, he adds, only about 10 per cent know how.

"A man gets up in the morning," Kushell reports, "dabs a little water on his face, mixes in some lather, grabs his razor and attacks."

"His attitude is negative. He pulls the razor up. He pulls the razor down, collecting skin as he goes along. Then he rinses his face and douses it with some painful alcoholic concoction. It's all over and he's glad of it. He has gone around the course with as few strokes as possible."

Kushell worked out this formula for correct shaving:

Step by Step
1. Adopt that "positive attitude," with or without pinups.

2. Wash your face in hot water—the hotter the better—and soap. This softens up your beard.

3. Lather up for a full minute. Don't just dab it on. Allow lather to stand a couple of minutes, then shave.

4. Hold your razor comfortably in your hand. Stretch your skin so it's taut. This makes whiskers

NOW IT'S '3-D' IN CHURCH—The world's only "3-D" stained glass window is the pride of Trinity Lutheran Church in Jackson, Miss. The window appears to be in three dimensions, because it has five panels of glass, each six inches apart. Parts of the scene are set in each pane, thus making the picture appear to have depth. Rev. and Mrs. Wade H. Koons are shown inspecting the window.

stand up to the blade. Use short, oblique strokes, never straight down. Par is 150-200 strokes.

5. Rinse your face in warm water, then use lotion or powder. This job is done.

For the fairer sex, Kushell has a parting word: "Don't borrow your husband's razor. Have one of your own. It makes home life happier."

Betty Pearson, Benjamin Donaghy In Bridal Rites

Marriage vows were spoken by Miss Betty Joan Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Pearson, 1006 S. 15th St., and Benjamin H. Donaghy in a candlelight service Saturday, July 11, at Bethany Lutheran Church in Escanaba.

The Rev. Gustav Lund solemnized the 8 p. m. service before an altar decorated with pink gladiolus in gold vases flanked with palms. Mrs. Robert Temby, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Gown of White Lace

The bride's gown of white lace, piped with satin, was ballerina length. Her fingertip veil was caught to a flower-trimmed cloche. She carried orchid lilies and ivy. Her sister, Lois, who was maid of honor, and Mrs. Robert Boyle, the bridesmaid, wore lace gowns styled like the bride's. The maid of honor was in light green and the bridesmaid in pink. Bolt had Mary Stuart hats to match their dresses. They carried garland bouquets of ivy.

Fred Donaghy was best man for his brother. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Donaghy of Saginaw. Robert Boyle served as groomsmen. Robert Temby and Robert Pearson ushered and Thomas Donaghy filled the role of candle lighter.

Mrs. Pearson wore a light blue linen dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Donaghy wore powder blue linen and lace. Orchid lilies formed their corsages.

The reception which followed the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Patsy Goranson and Miss Margaret Donaghy presided at the silver service and Mrs. Florence Harrington served the wedding cake. White gladiolus and mums centered the table.

Wedding Guests

Miss Davidson Is The Bride Of David L. Laakso

Baskets of mixed garden flowers, arranged with white cathedral tapers in candelabra, formed the setting in the First Presbyterian Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Alice Mae Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Davidson of 709 S. 14th St., and David William Laakso of Wakefield.

The 7 p. m. service was solemnized by the Rev. James H. Bell, and was followed by a reception for 150 guests in the church parlors.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown. The bodice was of lace with a Peter Pan collar, complemented by a long-sleeved lace jacket with accordion pleated net cuffs. Accordion pleated net over taffeta formed the skirt. Her veil of fingertip length was caught to a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Bridal Aides

The young women attending her, Miss Mary Alice Ward of Armada, Mich., who was maid of honor, and Miss Sylvia Vedin of Menominee, the bridesmaid, wore ballerina length strapless gowns designed with lace bodices and full skirts of net over taffeta. Their stoles and velvet headpieces matched the gowns. The maid of honor was in pale green and the bridesmaid in orchid. They carried contrasting bouquets of tinted carnations.

Mr. Laakso who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Laakso of Wakefield had the bride's twin brothers as his attendants. Alan served as best man and Paul as groomsmen. Ushers were Edgar Holmgren Jr. of Ishpeming and Ward Mitchell of Escanaba.

Both mothers were in navy ensembles. Their corsages were red roses.

Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom, organist, played the traditional bridal music and accompanied Mrs. Clara Somers, violinist, in a prelude of bridal selections as the guests were being seated.

Presiding at the silver service during the reception were Mrs. James Davidson Jr. and Miss Janet Oberg of Escanaba. Miss Geraldine Nichol of Escanaba served the punch.

Among many of the strangely beautiful scenes, the camera shows minute flowers, a hundred times smaller than the smallest rose, strange microscopic dwellers of the sea, glassed house plants called diatoms, iridescent cave crystal and the clownish amoeba.

"Hidden Treasures" represents eighteen months of camera work in out-of-the-way places. The Moody Institute of Science films have been seen by several million people in 54 foreign countries. Sound tracks have been translated into thirteen languages.

Lanolin Plus Does Wonders For Your Skin

Your Skin Wakes Up to New Beauty and Exquisite Softness With Lanolin Plus Liquid

ONE OF THE most serious beauty problems women face is premature wrinkles, due to excessive dryness or climatic conditions. The longer this dry condition exists, the deeper and more permanent the premature wrinkles and crow's-feet become. Now with Lanolin Plus Liquid, you can help replenish vital oils that are so essential to a smoother, more youthful complexion.

Harsh cleansing methods remove the skin's natural lubricants—esters and cholesterol—and in many cases, may further dry out your skin. All you have to do is soften the skin and premature wrinkles become less and less apparent. Try this wonderfully refreshing facial with LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID at night before you go to bed. Your face will feel relaxed and refreshed—and you'll feel a glowing kind of youthful vitality in your skin. And when your skin feels this good, you just know it looks radiant and exquisitely smooth!

Your Hands Will Look Lovelier ... Feel Softer With Lanolin Plus Hand Lotion

Lanolin Plus Hand Lotion can bring your hands loveliness you may have forgotten, or didn't know you really had. With each bottle, you receive as a gift the convenient dispenser shown here. Dispenser drops just the right amount of Lanolin Plus into your hands so you never waste a precious drop.

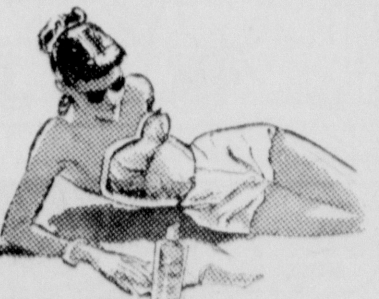

You can't imagine what beauty you have in the palms of your hands until you use Lanolin Plus Hand Lotion. For Lanolin Plus, containing the right amount of lanolin with its valuable esters and cholesterol, penetrates your skin and replenishes vital oils that your hands need to make them feel and look smooth as silk.

It's no wonder that Lanolin Plus is so effective. Years ago on the plains of Australia, during sheep-shearing season, the hands of the men were dry and calloused. But almost immediately an amazing phenomenon occurred. Their hands became softer and smoother. The secret? Lanolin, the closest duplication of the natural oils of our human skin, is found in the fats and oils of the sheep's wool. As the men sheared the sheep, lanolin was absorbed into their skin. And gradually their hands became softer and smoother. Today chemists have found a way to blend an abundant amount of lanolin into Lanolin Plus. The formula holds an exclusive United States patent.

Treat your hands to this entirely new feeling of petal-freshness and softness. Use LANOLIN PLUS HAND LOTION all through your busy day. It works quickly, then disappears like magic. So reasonably priced, too—only one dollar, plus tax, at all cosmetic counters.

With Lanolin Plus Suntan Lotion, You Can Help Prevent Peeling...Get A Smooth, Even Tan

Here for the first time is a suntan lotion containing not only a filtering agent that screens out the sun's harmful ultra violet rays, but also an abundant amount of Lanolin Plus that helps to stop peeling before it ever gets started! Most peeling is due to excessive dryness caused by overexposure to the burning, drying rays of the sun. Lanolin Plus Suntan Lotion starts its softening action the minute you apply it to your body... and it keeps your skin thoroughly lubricated while you're under the sun.

No wonder you'll have your most attractive tan ever when you use Lanolin Plus Suntan Lotion. So economical, too. A dollar* bottle lasts the average sun-worshiper through a glorious tan. Get LANOLIN PLUS SUNTAN LOTION at your cosmetic counter now... and make sure your skin is soft and lovely every single day this summer.

Make Your Skin Softer, Smoother "All Over" With Lanolin Plus Body Lotion

From the time of the early Egyptians, women who have longed for loveliness have tried to keep their skin soft and smooth with various fragrant oils. Now, for your every-day enjoyment, there is a heavenly body lotion, enriched with lanolin to keep every inch of you "petal-soft." No matter what the weather, this creamy-smooth liquid penetrates and protects your skin from the drying effects of sun, wind and dry air.

Never before was there such a luxuriant lotion—so delicately scented, so gently effective, as Lanolin Plus Body Lotion. You'll love the way it helps replenish vital oils, dried out from frequent bathing. A superb blend of protecting, softening oils and lanolin, this new body lotion makes you feel refreshingly relaxed, lovely all over!

It takes so little... spreads so easily... and is so economical that you'll want to use it faithfully. Don't let a day go by without using your LANOLIN PLUS BODY LOTION. You'll find the generous twelve-ounce bottle only $1.50, plus tax, at all cosmetic counters.

Hold a hot washcloth to your face and neck for about a minute to open pores and allow tired muscles to relax.

Warm the bottle of Lanolin Plus Liquid under hot water tap. Briskly massage into face and neck until skin begins to tingle.

After a few minutes, wipe your face petal-fresh.

Rinse your face and neck with cold water. Then gently massage a few drops of Lanolin Plus Liquid into your skin before retiring. Its gentle, penetrating action will work while you sleep... and you'll awake next morning to find new radiant beauty in your skin. There's no need to let premature wrinkles make you look older. Use LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID faithfully every day. You'll find it at all cosmetic counters for only one dollar, plus tax.

Your Hair Will Be Lovelier, More Manageable If It's In Good Condition

All the new "hair-dos", rinses, permanents and bleaches in the world can't make your hair look prettier if it isn't in good condition. Simple, basic care of your hair is your first step toward hair beauty. And Lanolin Plus For The Hair should be your first thought.

If your hair is dull, dry and unmanageable, it will surely welcome the refreshing, softening influence of Lanolin Plus. For lanolin, with its rich base of stimulating esters and cholesterol, is the closest duplication of Nature's own lubricants. Too often the gleaming highlights and lovely softness that Nature meant for your hair to have are taken away by various kinds of harsh hair treatment, water, and the drying effects that come from exposure to sun or wind. When that happens—and even before it happens—look to Lanolin Plus For The Hair to supplement precious, natural oils and bring out sparkling highlights.

It can be used in several ways. Before a shampoo: Rub gently into scalp and massage hair strands. If you prefer, use it the night before. If dryness is severe, brush a few drops through the hair, and in the ends. Every day: A few drops brushed on help to keep unruly locks and stray ends beautifully in place.

You'll find, too, that the men of your house will like this new, lanolin-rich lotion for their hair. Imparts a well-groomed sheen to hair... and it's so lightly scented.

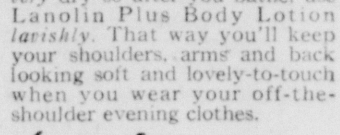

Give your hair a chance to look its best. Get LANOLIN PLUS FOR THE HAIR soon. At all cosmetic counters, only a dollar, plus tax.

You owe it to yourself to discover the wondrous things Lanolin Plus products can do for you. When you use them faithfully, you'll have the key that brings forth skin and hair beauty you may never have realized you had!

Bits About Beauty by Cynthia Russell

This summer, if you want to be sure your skin feels soft and looks smooth day and night, follow this simple routine carefully. When you've spent hours in the sun, your skin is apt to become very dry so after you bathe, use Lanolin Plus Body Lotion liberally. That way you'll keep your shoulders, arms and back looking soft and lovely-to-touch when you wear your off-the-shoulder evening clothes.

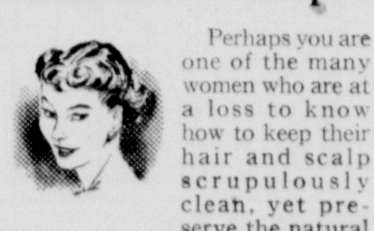

Don't let summer sun steal the softness from your hair. Before you go out to face the burning rays of the sun and the drying effects of water, always massage your scalp with a little Lanolin Plus For The Hair. You'll find this will supplement your natural oils and all summer long your hair will look like shining satin.

If you're going on a vacation, be sure to pack an old pair of cotton gloves. Then every night when you go to bed, massage LANOLIN PLUS HAND LOTION into your hands and around the base of your nails to help prevent callouses and hangnails. Wear your cotton gloves overnight and see how lovely and soft your hands feel the next morning. (Chances are you'll discover that your manicure lasts longer, too!)

To have that luxurious feeling of petal-softness and freshness

Reveal Your Hair's Natural Loveliness With Lanolin Plus Hard Water Shampoo

Perhaps you are one of the many women who are at a loss to know how to keep their hair and scalp scrupulously clean, yet preserve the natural oils that are essential to soft, glistening hair. Possibly you've found that ordinary cleansing has either had a severe drying action, leaving the scalp flaky and the hair brittle and unmanageable, or has left a sticky, dulling film on your hair.

Now, Lanolin Plus Hard Water Shampoo answers this problem for you. For this is the shampoo that contains a superabundance of lanolin, the nearest duplication of nature's own oils. It not only helps lubricate scalp and soften hair, but at the same time it lathers beautifully in the hardest water. Its rich, lanolinized suds thoroughly whisk away dirt and grime so that the hair is left soft and silken and gleaming, as it should be. Just as the shampoo cleanses, its oil pampers the hair.

It's economical, too, because it's fast-acting, and ordinarily only one application is needed each time you wash your hair.

All cosmetic counters can supply you with LANOLIN PLUS HARD WATER SHAMPOO for only a dollar. You'll never know how really clean, soft and manageable your hair can be until you use this thorough shampoo, containing such a generous supply of lanolin. Try it, and see if you're not amazed at the new loveliness it gives to your hair.

Lanolin Plus

Lanolin Plus Agrees With Your Skin... Makes It Feel Better... Look Softer, More Youthful

THE LOVELY, SMOOTH SKIN of a baby is naturally soft and supple because Nature's inner lubricants keep it that way. But as time goes by, these natural oils become less plentiful and, in addition, are removed by sun, wind, dry indoor air and harsh cleansing. Years ago it was found that the wool of sheep contains a substance known as lanolin, which, because of its rich base of beneficial esters and cholesterol, is most similar to the natural oils of our human skin.

The chemists who created Lanolin Plus planned their formula to include highly refined lanolin and other skin-beautifying ingredients. Because of its thorough action, it helps to maintain the proper lubricating balance both for complexions that are too dry or too oily. It also supplies normal skin with the priceless softening influence it needs to stay soft and silken-textured.

With your very first touch of Lanolin Plus Liquid, you'll see for yourself how exquisitely soft and fresh your skin can feel. Words can't describe that feeling, but once you know it, you'll never want to lose it. If you use Lanolin Plus faithfully and regularly, you'll find that harsh dryness will disappear... premature wrinkles and crow's-feet due to excessive dryness or climatic conditions become less and less noticeable.

Use Lanolin Plus Liquid to pamper your skin overnight while you sleep... use it as a cleanser to make your face feel cleaner, fresher than ever before. And you'll find it does wonders for replenishing vital oils removed from the skin by wind and the burning, ultra violet rays of the sun. If your heels, insteps or toes are calloused or rough, a relaxing foot bath, followed by a Lanolin Plus Liquid massage, will soften and soothe the dried out areas.

The most feminine desire in the world is to stay lovely and youthful looking. Now—with the softening qualities of Lanolin Plus Liquid—all women can help to achieve this desire. For this almost-miraculous Liquid replenishes vital oils that help to deter dry skin with its devastating effects.

Take a long, objective look at your complexion. Is it everything you want it to be? Or would it welcome a chance to absorb some of Nature's own kind of lubricants? Lanolin is the closest duplication of these natural oils. So don't wait another day to discover the wonders of LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID. One dollar* is such a tiny price to pay for the glorious feeling of having skin that you know is soft and caressable, and more youthful looking than you ever imagined!

Skin Feels Cleaner—Fresh-As-A-Daisy—With Lanolin Plus Liquid Cleanser

The fresh, clean feel of your skin after its first cleansing with this creamy liquid will make you promise yourself that you'll never again bother with harsh cleansing methods. For Lanolin Plus Liquid Cleanser, richly endowed with lanolin and its rich base of esters and cholesterol, penetrates your skin and softens as it cleanses. Lanolin Plus Liquid Cleanser is compounded so that there is no harsh, drying effect. Instead, it offers the wonderful lubricating influence of lanolin itself that combats drying conditions due to lack of natural oils.

There's a good reason why lanolin is so beneficial to your skin. Lanolin is obtained from sheep's wool and is most similar to the natural oils of our human skin. So when Nature's own lubricants are so closely duplicated, it's no wonder that your skin responds quickly and eagerly.

LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID CLEANSER should be a "must" in your daily skin care. It's amazingly effective... delightfully refreshing... and so economical! Only one dollar plus tax at all cosmetic counters.

HONG KONG (AP)—Research has proved that old bamboo can be quickly converted into high quality paper pulp, the Communist newspaper Wen Wei Pao reported recently in a Canton dispatch. DRINKS ON THE HOUSE—After watching farmers drink tepid water from a hydrant, Jerry Hinshaw, manager of the Co-op Equity Exchange in Arlington, Kan., decided to do something about it. He installed a barrel in the storehouse and filled it with water and ice so the farmers could fill their jugs while they waited for their grain to be weighed. The only barrel he could get was an old charred-oak keg in which 50 gallons of Ye Olde Tanglefoot has grown to virile manhood. The farmers didn't mind a bit, they drank, joshed, and went away refreshed, speaking highly of the firm's services. Above left, Jerry Hinshaw gives the barrel the sniff check, while farmer Ross Ray fills his jug from the outside tap.

Charter planes will carry delegates from Africa, Europe and Latin America, and large delegations are coming by ship from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Orient. Some 18,000 Canadians are expected.

"It is significant in this materialistic age," Carlson said, "that people will spend millions of dollars for the privilege of assembling together to worship Jehovah God. True faith in God is not declining. Jehovah's Witnesses annually report a world-wide increase of about 20 per cent in the number preaching. We expect thousands more will be baptized at the convention."

Regular Meeting Of City Council Is Set For Tonight

Manistique City Council will meet in regular session at City Hall tonight, beginning at 7:30, it is announced by Alex Robertson, city clerk.

Old business slated for consideration at the meeting will include various proposed special assessment districts for sidewalk and curb and possibly the matter of paid holidays for municipal employees.

Routine city business also is scheduled for attention.

Oxfords originated in the English university seat of that name, in 1665-1670, through cutting down of the boots which were the fashion of that time.

Suggestions To Fit Cattle For Shows Offered By Reid

Farmers and 4-H Club members who plan to show cattle at the Upper Peninsula State Fair or at the Alger County Dairy Day are offered suggestions for preparing cattle exhibits by Clayton D. Reid, district agricultural agent.

Special care in fitting the animals for exhibition should be taken during the eight weeks' period preceding the showing, Reid pointed out. He offered the following suggestions:

Bathe, blanket and keep animals indoors: Keep in barn during daytime and wash animals and keep blanket on except on extremely hot days. In washing cattle, use tar soap if possible. Work up good lather, then rinse thoroughly. Frequent washing is not desirable, but manure stains should be washed off as they occur. Give the switch special attention.

Feed, water and exercise: Fit the animal inside by proper feeding, give plenty of fresh water, and turn animal out at night for exercise.

Clipping, grooming and training: It is not necessary to clip entire body if you have followed proper feeding and blanketing practices. Clip the tail starting at the top of the switch to the tail head. Clip long hair from neck, shoulder and flank areas. (If proper management is not followed as to washing and blanketing, the animal may be clipped over the entire body two weeks prior to the show, but this is a poor substitute for a good grooming job.) After the initial washing a good brushing each day will make the hair soft and keep it clean as well as condition the skin.

In training animal to lead and stand still. Lead from left side holding rope coiled in right hand. (Move clockwise in practice). Pose animal with front feet on higher ground where possible.

Turn and face your calf (cow) and hold lead rope in left hand. Train to stand with legs straight, set under four corners of body, head up and back straight.

Horns: Use rasp on rough surface. Scrape with steel scraper the long way on the horn. Use narrow strip of emery cloth with

Meet Soon To Plan Tourney

Team managers and board of control members of the Manistique Softball League will meet in the near future to draft plans for the annual tournament, it is announced by T. H. Reque, city recreation director.

Rosters used in the final round of softball play, opening tonight, will comprise the tournament eligibility list. Team managers have been requested to check their rosters previous to final league play with the league executive board. League officials are hopeful that installation of lights can be completed at Central Park area, a tournament time. Lights are expected to arrive the first part of August.

If the field can be lighted in time, tournament games will be played under lights, and it is also expected that several exhibition softball games may be booked with neighboring communities.

The Central Park fencing project is expected to be completed this week, Reque said. The new cyclone fencing, extending from Hall stadium north to E. Elk St., extended, will separate the Central Park field from N. Maple Ave.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Hap Rondeau, sports editor of the Iron Mountain News, swears by the following story: A mother last week visited her 10-year-old son at the Fortune Lake Lutheran Bible camp. He gives her a detailed account of the daily camp routine, starting with reveille in the morning and all the way through lights out. Then the boy says, "Just before we go to bed all of us kneel and say our prayers aloud." The motherly curiosity comes out and she asks, "What do the boys pray for?" Without batting an eyelash, the youngster answers, "Most of them pray for the Detroit Tigers."

Al Ness received a nice letter from John Martinac, who is working out each day with the Oshkosh Giants of the Wisconsin State League. John sees work at third, short and second in the practice sessions. He probably won't join the team until the final 30 days of the season to retain his rookie status for next year.

Three former Upper Peninsula high school grid stars were among the players invited to report for football practice at the University of Wisconsin this fall. They are Keith Lundin, Iron River, an end; Bob Gingrass, Iron Mountain, a halfback; and Ken Hofer, Stephenson, a halfback. The Badgers open the season Sept. 26 at Camp Randall against Penn State.

Paced by Escanaba's Ray Hirn, the 31st Air Division golf team, stationed at Minneapolis, Minn., is expected to make a strong bid for team honors in the Great Plains tourney this week at Oklahoma City. Hirn finished first in the recent 31st AD tourney in Duluth. Teams from Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota competed.

Bay de Noc All Stars Beat Manistique 7-2

MANISTIQUE — The Bay de Noc League All Stars reached Manistique hurler Don Carlson for three runs in the first inning and that proved sufficient to hand the Manistique Cardinals their second straight Star game loss. The final margin was 7-2.

Manager George Brown's All Stars opened the first with singles by Swagart and Rukilla, Richards was safe on a fielder's choice, Johnson, Trenary catcher, singled home Rukilla and Richards scored when Lee's tag at home was dropped. Vince Trotter then doubled to right field to send in Johnson.

The Cards came back with two in the fifth and the game was tight until the eighth when the All Stars picked up four hits and four runs. Carlson stepped down for Norm Jahn who retired the side and allowed only one hit in the ninth.

Moran, Johnson, VanRemortel and Brown handled the mound chores for the Stars and limited the Cardinals to six hits. Each team was charged with one error.

Carlson fanned eight, Jahn two, for the Cards, and Johnson two, VanRemortel one and Brown one for the Stars.

The game was played before the largest crowd to view a game in the Manistique area in years.

LeMire Third At Turn In State Junior Golf Tourney At Midland

MIDLAND (Special to the Escanaba Daily Press) — With Bill LeMire, Jr., of Escanaba, and Don Murvin, of Menominee, firing 77 and 79, respectively, good for third and fourth place at the halfway mark, the Upper Peninsula delegation is acquitting itself well in its first invasion of state junior golfing circles here today.

LeMire, who won the first Upper Peninsula junior golf tournament in Escanaba last Thursday, shot a steady 39-38 this morning, co-runnerup in the Escanaba meet sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press and the Jaycees, turned in 40-39.

A. Zimmerman, of Jackson, took the half-way lead with 37-36-73 over the par 82 18-hole Midland course, and V. Micklow, of Adrian, was in second place with 35-41-76.

The U. P. delegation appeared to have a good team score shaping up in the 36-hole medal state junior tourney as Joe Pesavento, of Iron Mountain, came through with 41-42-83 and Jackie Smith, Escanaba Highland, scored 40-46-86. David Hirn, Escanaba Highland, fifth place winner in the U. P. meet, tallied 44-41.

Don Hoevar and Grant Burnett, of Sault Ste. Marie, sixth and seventh place winners, respectively, in the Escanaba tourney, teed off later than the others and their scores were not yet unavailable.

One hundred and twenty five youngsters from 34 cities throughout Michigan are competing in the event here. The five low individual scorers will qualify for an all expenses-paid entry in the national junior tournament in Ann Arbor Aug. 17-22, inclusive.

Soo Cops Legion Tournament

Sault Ste. Marie, playing in the 11th district American Legion Junior baseball tournament for the first time, today copped the tourney title by defeating the Escanaba All Stars 10 to 6.

Rated the tournament dark horse before action began last Friday, the Soo crew established themselves as the tournament favorite early in the tourney.

Soo went into yesterday's semifinal game undefeated and lost 6-3 to the All Stars managed by Art Petersen, Escanaba city recreation director.

Had Rally Going

Soo scored its runs in the first and seventh innings today, tallying five in each of the stanzas. The All Stars entered the last of the ninth trailing 10-4 and staged a rally that threatened to overcome the deficit. The Escanaba team had the bases loaded and two runs across when the game ended.

John Goetz went all the way on the Soo rubber and was nicked for six hits by the All Stars. Jim Brown and Bill Maycunich paced the Escanabans with a single and double apiece. Goetz had a pair of singles for the Soo.

The All Stars moved into the championship game by sweeping to two wins Saturday and two Sunday. Saturday morning they toppled Powers 9-2 and in the afternoon game they tripped Stephenson 11-9.

Sunday morning they topped Gladstone 6-3 and then faced the undefeated and favored Soo team. The Escanaba team trailed 2-0 going into the final inning before exploding for six runs to cop the semifinal.

Braves Win Two, Still In Challenging Mood

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Ask almost any National League manager what he thinks of the Milwaukee Braves and he'll shake his head in wonderment and tell you they should have folded long ago.

They'll tell you the Braves still will fold, but with the season more than half over, they don't say so with the same finality they used a month ago.

When the Braves lost three games in a row to the Brooklyn Dodgers late last month, their detractors thought they had cracked good and never would recover. Then early this month, they fell 3½ games behind the Dodgers, and again the experts figured it was all over but the shouting.

1½ Games Out

Yet, today, the Braves are just a game and a half behind the Dodgers and creating more noise than any dead Indian should.

The St. Louis Cardinals had a good opportunity Sunday to help bury Charley Grimm's tomahawk slingers and they succeeded only in digging a grave for themselves. The Braves won a double-header from the Cards 10-1 and 4-3 and knocked the Redbirds right into fourth place.

The Philadelphia Phillies took over third place by whacking the helpless Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4 and 6-5. In other games, the Dodgers turned back the New York Giants 4-3, and the Cincinnati Redlegs won two games from the Chicago Cubs 7-4 and 7-3.

Chisox Win Two

In the American League the New York Yankees whipped the Washington Senators 6-5 but saw their lead sliced to five games when the Chicago White Sox mauled the Cleveland Indians twice, 14-2 and 3-1. Boston and Philadelphia split a double-header, the Red Sox winning the first 9-5 and the A's the second 4-1. The Detroit Tigers won the first game of their twin bill with the St. Louis Browns 8-7, but the Browns took the second 3-2, beating Ralph Branca, making his first American League start.

The Braves managed to notch his eighth victory of the year in the first game by slugging five Cardinal pitchers for 17 hits, including a grand slam home run by Ed Matthews.

The nightcap, though, was a different story. The Cards scored three runs in the fifth and Don Liddle had to be rescued by Bob Buhl, who held the Cards at bay while his mates were notching the tying and winning runs in the seventh.

Walks In Run

The double triumph enabled the Braves to shave a half game off the Dodgers' lead. The Brooks themselves snapped an eight-game winning streak of the Giants when they scored a run off relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm in the bottom of the 10th inning. With the bases loaded, Wilhelm passed Bobby Morgan to force in the winning run. Billy Cox had tied it for Chuck Dressen's crew with a home run in the ninth with one on.

Robin Roberts hurled the Phillies to their first game triumph for his 14th victory of the year, while Bob Miller and Steve Ridzik tossed the nightcap. The defeat was the Pirates' 10th in a row.

Harry Perkowski and Fred Baczewski each went all the way for the improving Redlegs in their twin triumphs over the Cubs.

The Yanks had to win their game the hard way. They had a 5-3 margin going into the ninth, but Jackie Jensen hit a home run off reliever Bob Kuzava to shave the lead to one run. That called for Allie Reynolds to take over the mount for the Yanks. He gave up a triple to Keith Thomas and a game-tying fly to Gil Coan.

Mantle Scores Clincher

In the home half of the ninth, Gene Woodling singled Mickey Mantle, who had walked and gone to second on another walk to Irv Noren, home with the winning run. Reynolds got credit for the victory.

The fearless White Sox really lambasted the Indians in the opener as five Tribe pitchers paraded to the mound. They took their lumps to the tune of 19 hits, Mike Fournieles had no trouble on the hill for the Pale Hose.

In the second game, the Indians put up more of a fight, although Bob Lemon, one of their aces, was tapped for 13 hits. The Sox couldn't capitalize, though, and needed a tightly pitched game by Virgil Trucks and Billy Pierce, who came on in the ninth.

Hector Brown and Ivan Deadlock tossed the Red Sox to their first-game victory, but Harry Byrd stopped them with six hits in the nightcap to give the A's a split.

The Tigers took the opener from the Browns on a neat relief chore by Ray Herbert. In the second game, Branca was tapped for all three runs in the first inning and was charged with the loss. After the rocky first, he did all right until he was lifted in the sixth.

Homers Spoil Branca's First Start As Tiger

DETROIT (AP)—The story goes that a home run ball ran Ralph Branca out of the National League. Take it or leave it.

However, now comes fate to Branca's door again—by way of the home run.

The 27-year-old former Brooklyn Dodger righthander was biffed for two homers in the first inning of his first start for the Detroit Tigers Sunday.

Branca pitched nifty ball thereafter but the two homers meant his defeat, 3-2, in the second game of a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns.

At Waiver Price

The last-place Tigers picked up Branca last week from the Dodgers at the $10,000 waiver price. Everybody in the National League passed him up.

The Branca story—the sad part of it—dates back to the National League championship playoff series between Brooklyn and the New York Giants in 1951.

With two Giants on base in the ninth, Branca fed a home run ball to Bobby Thomson. The Giants won the game 5-4 as a result, and the championship.

Since, Ralph has done nothing spectacular in sparse use at Brooklyn. Although he won 21 games in 1947, he is remembered mainly for that home run pitch at the Polo Grounds.

Homers In First

The two homers Branca pitched in Sunday's second game scored all the Brownie runs. Former Tigers Johnny Groth and Vic Wertz hit them. Wertz' came with one man on. Groth was the first man at bat.

As it turned out, the homers off Branca prevented Detroit from making a sweep of the two games. The Tigers won the opener 8-7.

Yesterday's script was: Groth in to left field stands, then Wertz into the seats in right after Bobby Young had walked.

Thereafter, Branca was virtually untouchable. Only two men got the ball out of the infield during the rest of his pitching stay. He pitched to only 12 men in the next four innings. He tired and retired after the fifth.

Meanwhile, Dick Littlefield, holding Detroit to five hits, went on to be the winner.

Littlefield Gets Win

For a time a Briggs stadium Sunday crowd of 22,300 had hopes of seeing the Tigers in the astonishing act of sweeping a doubleheader.

It was not to be, however. After getting two runs off Littlefield in the second on Steve Souchock's walk, singles by Bob Nieman and Don Lund, and Johnny Bucha's fly, the Tigers were helpless.

Satchel Paige walked away the first game for St. Louis in the eighth.

With the bases full, Paige walked

Souchock on an inside three-and-two pitch to force in Johnny Pesky and break a 7-7 tie.

Reliever Ray Herbert, who retired three Brownie pinch-hitters in the ninth, got credit for the victory, his second against two defeats.

Begin Grading Montana Avenue

Grading and graveling of Montana avenue, 5th to 13th St., has been started by municipal crews in preparation for blacktopping. About a year's traffic is required to pack it sufficiently for the application of the blacktop.

This is only one of a group of related street improvement projects designed for the year.

Construction of sidewalk on 13th St. between Delta avenue and Lake Shore Drive in places where there previously had been no sidewalk is coming along good, according to City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

Considerable portions of the walk have already been laid while at other points the fill is being obtained to bring the walk to the proper grade.

Mary Agnes Wall To Defend Golf Crown

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Defending Champion Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee led a field of 80, including half a dozen veteran former champions, into the qualifying round of the annual Women's State Golf Championship here today.

Miss Wall, back in the city that gave her one of her greatest golfing triumphs, was scheduled first off the tee to face the rigors of Kent Country Club course, Grand Rapids' toughest.

Hilly, with narrow fairways and sloping greens, Kent has a par 37 first nine that is quite likely to blast the hopes of a good many of the women entries.

The back nine is a comparatively easier par 35, but still offers green and rough trouble for the unwary. It was at Grand Rapids' Blythe-field that Miss Wall won her first state championship in 1947, after twice finishing as a runner-up.

Most of Mary Agnes' competition is expected to come from such veteran former champions as Mrs. Don Weiss, of Flint, a four-time winner; Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit, who took it five times, and several others.

Two youngsters may give the veterans a run for it, however. One is Alyce Howard of Battle Creek who has been outstanding in several Western Michigan tournaments. The other is 17-year-old Judy Reynolds of Kalamazoo, who learned her competitive golf in Florida from Babe Didrickson Zaharias.

Fifteen low qualifiers and Miss Wall start match play Tuesday.

Young Welterweights See Action Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the best welterweight prospects around these days, Danny Giovannelli of New York and Alan Moody of Chicago, go on display tonight in Brooklyn and Chicago.

The 20-year-old Giovannelli, winner of 12 in a row and 20 out of 22 pro fights, faces another young comer, Joey Klein of New York, in the feature ten rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena. Klein has won 14 of 16 pro bouts.

Moody, a clever boxer and a hard hitter, meets Italy's Waldo Fusaro in an eight-rounder at Chicago's Rainbo Arena. The 21-year-old Chicago Negro has a 24-1 record.

If both Giovannelli and Moody keep on winning, the two may clash in the fall.

New Car Sales Are Holding Up

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales are holding up better than most of the auto industry's sales executives anticipated for the current season.

One of the results of the high level distribution is to keep new car inventories at modest levels and lessen the worries of many retailers. As far as the manufacturers can determine now, the high level retail sales will continue through all of July and into August.

Not so bright is the used car outlook. Most dealers and the used car lot operators have more second hand vehicles than they want. Many are losing money on the resale of these vehicles, most of which were traded in on new car purchases.

Tighter Credit

Besides the heavy accumulation of used cars, a tightening of credit by the banks and finance companies has made the sale of the older cars somewhat difficult.

Despite these unfavorable factors industry executives are counting on 1953 as one of the truly big years in car making and merchandising history.

Plastics Have Possibilities

Settlement of several supplier company strikes has enabled most of the smaller car companies to get back into higher volume output. Generally these companies have projected increased output for several months ahead.

Chevrolet, largest of the world's motor vehicle builders, reportedly has a large bank of unfilled orders for its plastic body Corvette, newest sport model.

Despite Chevrolet's plunge into the reinforced plastic body car field nobody in high industry circles is prepared yet to say that plastics seriously threaten steel as the major element of car body construction. The car engineers are agreed plastics have a lot of possibilities, but they also agree a great deal of exploratory work remains to be done.

One feeling gaining proportion in automotive quarters is that Willow Run which recently lost its big aircraft contract with the Air Force soon may be producing body stampings for Willys and Kaiser cars and augment its present formed sheet metal work for other body manufacturers.

Connecticut Makes Nearly Everything

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—It's pretty hard to spend money without some of it going back to a Connecticut factory. The state development commission has put out a list of products of which Connecticut makes "a considerable part" of the total national production. In the case of a good many of them, Connecticut out-produces all other states combined.

This is the list:
Locks, hand tools, rubber footwear, hats, brass and copper goods, electric tools, office machines, aircraft parts, casters, phonograph records, firearms, parachutes, brake lining, buttons, velvets, industrial sewing machines, machine tool parts, submarines, airplane engines, machine tools, printed textiles, elastic webbing, dictating machines, rugs, ball bearings, marine hardware, electrical appliances, hardware, silver-plated flatware, chains, gun

ARMFUL OF TROUT—Arnold Hubbell of Grayling, Mich., displays the 35-inch, 15-pound, one ounce brown trout he caught in the Manistee River west of Frederick, Mich., on a No. 6 caddis fly. Hubbell used a four-ounce rod and a 10-pound test leader and battled the fish for half an hour before netting it. The conservation department said the catch probably set a Michigan record for a trout caught on a fly. The state record is a 17-pound, five-ounce, 36 5/8 inch trout caught on a worm a year ago in Houghton Creek, Ogemaw County, by Harold Crawford of Cass City. (AP Photo)

Americans Becoming Unpopular Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today that Americans have become so unpopular in some countries that "They don't even want our money if we have to go with it."

"People have declared a very strong nationalistic spirit," Humphrey said in an interview.

He said Americans would have to be patient until others learned that "We don't want to rob them, that all we want to do is help."

Personal Incomes Higher This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans' total personal income will run 7 per cent higher this year than last, if the government-reported levels for the first five months hold up. The Commerce Department Friday reported the May income from employment, farm operations, rents and other sources was at an annual rate of 284 billion dollars, up one billion from April.

For the first five months the rate was 282 billion.

Don't Ruin Today!

with Acid Indigestion

Gas, heartburn, sour stomach can make a sunny day seem dark and gloomy—unless you take a tip from millions of Americans. Always carry Tums. Just eat 1 or 2 delicious Tums after meals or whenever stomach distress occurs. Almost instantly, Tums neutralize excess acid. Contain no baking soda or other water-soluble alkali to over-alkalize or cause acid rebound. No mixing, no water needed. Take anywhere. You never know when acid indigestion will strike. Carry Tums always. Get a roll today.
